Board of Inquiry Lays Blame for Morro Castle Holocaust

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—The board of inquiry into the S.S. Morro Castle disaster reported made public today charged Captain Warren with negligence in connection with the burning of the ship and the attendant loss of 132 lives.

The preliminary report, signed by Captain C. K. Nielsen and James Smith, inspectors of the New York district, gives no cause or responsibility for the fire. It was explained the board's study ends with determining if the officers were negligent in the performance of their duty.

The preliminary report said the report shows that had the vessel been stopped and the 800 sent ashore the fire would probably have been less.

According to the paper the report shows that the crew of the Morro Castle, after lowering themselves into the sea in lifeboats, failed to aid passengers left on the boat.

Love Sure
Age Cure
Ina Avers

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—Mental stimulants, "and heart stimulants, too," have a lot to do with a woman's age, said Ina Avers, the actress, Monday, her birthday.

"She said she was 38."

"When you wake up some morning and see a face you don't believe is yours looking back at you from the mirror, it's time to have a new love interest," she said.

"Go out and buy a new hat. Get a facial and a new kind of hair dress. Look over the eligible men and fall in love with one of them. You remember the time I eloped with Jack Gilbert? That was my first airplane trip. The whole episode took 15 years off my life."

TAR SANDS OF M'MURRAY TO CREATE BOOM

New Extractor Spells Big
Development in the Northland

M'Murray tar sands, existence of which has challenged oil engineers and investors for years past, may yet prove to be one of the greatest oil producing areas in the British Empire.

According to word reaching Edmonton today from Toronto, a small apparatus in a downtown plant in the Ontario city is credited with holding the possibility of opening up the development of its 13,000 to 20,000 square miles of tar sands and making the British Empire absolutely independent of foreign oil. Should it prove true, the possibilities for the north country and for Edmonton as the bottleneck through which all the oil material in connection therewith must pass are unlimited.

Contrabuted by a company headed by Max W. Ball of Denver, with H. J. Jones of Toronto as vice-president, the apparatus will be kept a secret till Mr. Ball comes to Toronto late in the month and gives it final, definite approval.

From the Alberta Trade Commissioner's office, however, was learned the feature of the new development. Briefly it is proposed to construct a number of portable extracting plants, each capable of handling 200 to 500 tons of raw material a day. These will be hauled behind dredging machines, cutting down the high cost of haulage to a central establishment.

From these 500 tons of raw material it is hoped to obtain about 200 barrels of crude bitumen a day. This will be transported to a refinery.

The problem in the past has been to discover a method of extraction which will bring the oil to the refinery as cheap as the product from wells. Cost of recovery under the new plan will be about 30 cents per barrel, approximately half present cost.

If the process proves successful, gasoline and other crude oil products will be obtained. It is planned to have at least the first unit working by spring.

Farmers Reported Taking Stock Into Houses for Protection, Police Busy Moving About in Canoes

VICTORIA, Oct. 10.—Nearly all farm houses in the vicinity of Hagenburg, B.C., have been isolated by the rampaging waters of the Bella Coola river and farmers have taken their livestock in the houses for shelter, reports to British Columbia provincial police headquarters were indicated Monday.

Several sick persons have been removed with difficulty from the flood-stricken town to Bella Coola, 12 miles distant. Married couples who have remained on their house-tops are anxiously awaiting the Department of Public Works relief party expected to arrive today.

The small detachment of police from Bella Coola, which has been engaged in relief work since the constables managed to get through to Hagenburg last Thursday, has experienced difficulty in moving around the town, their only means of transportation being canoes.

Temporary communication around the town has been established by telephone, but in the outer districts, canoes are the sole means of transportation.

The highway for five miles from Hagenburg is reported impassable. Provincial police patrolled the highway for a short distance in water up to their knees. At Hagenburg, the river, swelled by heavy rains, is running down what used to be the main road.

CHARGE 'REDS' WORKING FROM WITHIN PARTY

Affiliated Labor Groups
Warned of Communistic
Activities

Verbal sparks flew at the Trades and Labor Council meeting Monday evening during discussion on a letter sent out by William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, warning affiliated bodies of Communistic activities within their ranks.

The letter stated that the policy of joining from within the Labor movement again had been resorted to by Communists, and that where proof of such actions could be found the men responsible should be expelled from the organization.

NOTHING TO FEAR

Sid Parsons lead the attack, remarking that the American Federation was getting pretty small when it took on itself the fight of the capitalist. Let them do their own dirty work, he said. We have nothing to fear here, he continued, there is not a Communist in the country.

S. B. Bowtell, second board trustee, looked on the letter as a form of dictatorship. "We are not accepting dictation from Mr. Green or the American Federation," he said, "and if he does not like our action, he can read us out of the party." This statement was made on the motion that the letter be filed and no action taken.

Carl Berg, president of the Council, said the letter was not intended to be in any manner dictatorial. It was simply a warning to organization there was a determined effort on the part of the Communist party to capture organized Labor by bringing about world revolution.

WARNING JUSTIFIED

He considered the President of the American Federation of Labor would have been remiss in his duties had he not issued the warning, and considered it justified in view of actions taken recently by known Communists in attempting to bring about the dismissal of officers of local unions in this province.

Mr. Berg stated the Trades and Labor Council is not socialist. It was composed of men of all political persuasions.

"Then why is it supporting the C.P. movement?" asked Bob Lee.

"I venture to say that a great number of the members united in the C.P. movement," Mr. Berg stated. "It certainly has not the support of the Trades and Labor Council. That is not possible," he said, "as the constitution prohibits active entry into politics by the council. Leaders of Labor are in sympathy with the movement," he continued, "but that does not bind other members of the council to the C.P. policy."

After some further discussion the letter was ordered filed.

"AN EYE TO THE FUTURE - AN EAR TO THE GROUND"

—this describes General Motors' policy, a policy by which the public is given what it wants in better cars year after year, and yet is safely protected against ill-timed or dubious experiments

Again... There's no question about this matter of Leadership

As everyone knows, the cars and trucks of General Motors are again the great sales leaders.

We are proud of such a record, naturally. Yet it is no secret that this success is due in large measure to the public itself.

More than a year ago, months before production was begun on any of our 1934 models, we checked our designs against the ideas of motorists themselves. Through more than 60,000 answers to our questionnaire, "The Proving Ground of Public Opinion," we learned well in advance just what the public wanted in its new cars.

That, simply, is the story behind this year's sales-leading Chevrolests, Oldsmobiles, Pontiacs, McLaughlin-Buicks, LaSalle, Cadillacs and Chevrolet and GMC Trucks. The story behind Kneec-Action Wheels, Streamline Designs and Fisher No-Draft Ventilation. We knew they would meet the specifications of motorists.

Looking at the sales figures, you see proof of General Motors' leadership. But more than that, these figures show you just how Canadian motorists estimate the appeal and value of all cars on the market.

We believe that this estimate by "other owners" points to a General Motors car as your best investment—that it says with emphasis, "There is no question about this matter of leadership!"
